

FIRE DESTROYS KELLEY STORE

CONFLAGRATION, WHICH STARTED AT 8:15 O'CLOCK SATURDAY MORNING, DOES DAMAGES ESTIMATED AT FROM $15,000 TO $20,000.

WHOLE BLOCK THREATENED

Blaze is Supposed to Have Started from Match or Cigar Spark Dropped into Bench of Cotton Batting—Inflammable Materials Great Food for Flames.

Fire, which started in a lot of cotton batting, under a counter in the C. A. Kelley Department store at 8:15 o'clock Saturday morning, did damage of approximately $15,000 to the general stocks in the store, and approximately $1,500 damage to the building. The building is owned by Alfred Hirt. Mr. Kelley estimates his stock at from $20,000 to $25,000. He carried only $7,000 insurance on the stock. Mr. Hirt has $8,000 insurance on his building and is protected from loss. Mr. Kelley's net loss probably will amount to $8,000 or $10,000.

It is believed that the fire started from a match being thrown into the cotton or from a spark from a cigar which Mr. Kelley was smoking. The conflagration started under a counter about the center of the east side of the west room—the dry goods department.

Mr. Kelley and James L. Randel were talking, one on each side of the counter when suddenly a sheet of flame went from under the counter. Mr. Randel was the first to see the blaze and called out, "Here's the Kelley." In the space of a few seconds the whole inside of the store was a mass of flames. The room was full of Christmas goods and decorations which were of most inflammable materials and great food for the flames.

After a futile attempt to stop the burning cotton, Mr. Kelley ran to the phone but had difficulty in getting the fire department. Mr. Randel ran from the store and to the department headquarters, notifying the firemen of the fire.

By the time the department arrived the entire west room was a mass of flames. The large plate glass windows in the front of the store were cracked by the intense heat and fell crashing onto the sidewalk, while the windows in the rear were broken out by the heat, causing a draft through the room.

Smoke and flames poured out of the windows in great volumes. Three lines of hose were immediately laid and the firemen fought from both the front and the rear of the building. It was an hour before the flames were under control.

In the hour's time the dry good stock had been completely ruined. The clothing and shoe department in the east room, however, was not so badly damaged. The fire got into the cloak department on the second floor but the damage there from fire was slight. The water damage and smoke damage, however, is great. The carpet stock in the room, also on the second floor, is badly damaged from smoke and water.

For a time the Central National Bank building the millinery store on the east were in danger, as it looked very much as though the entire Hirt building would be destroyed. The firemen were greatly hindered in their work by the intense heat and the great volume of smoke, but they fought gamely under the adverse circumstances and finally controlled what looked to be the most dangerous fire Greencastle has seen in many days. In fact, it looked for a time, as if the entire block might be burned.

The first thing Mr. Kelley thought of after he had summoned the fire department was his account books and cash. The books and cash were in a safe, near where the fire started but he rushed in and got them. In doing so his face and neck on the left side were badly burned. As soon as he got his books into a place of safety he was taken to a physician and had his burns dressed. It is believed that his injuries will not be serious.

The loss of approximately $10,000 will be a great blow to Mr. Kelley. He had just last week placed an additional $5,000 stock in his store, and had remarked only a few days ago that he must get an additional $10,000 insurance. But he neglected to do so.

There is little doubt but that the fire started from a match thrown down by Mr. Kelley, or from a spark from his cigar. He was seated on the counter with his back toward Mr. Randel, when the flames were first noticed. The cotton was stored under the counter. At first it was believed that the fire might have started from the furnace, which is directly under the counter, but an investigation showed that no hole was burned through the floor.

Although Mr. Kelley says he does not remember of striking a match to light his cigar while he was seated on the counter, he says it is probable that he did so.

A large leather legal paper file, in which there was many valuable papers, which Mr. Kelley had in his hand, when the fire was discovered and which he laid on the counter when he discovered the fire was entirely forgotten until after the fire was extinguished. The file contained among other things, his insurance papers. Soon after the fire was extinguished, Mr. Kelley remembered of having had the file out of the safe and feared that it had been burned. A search in the debris in the store room resulted in finding the file badly burned and water soaked but the papers it contained, although badly damaged by water were intact.

Several young lady clerks were in the store when the fire started and they were forced to hurry from the building in order to escape being badly burned. Never has there been a fire in Greencastle which burned so rapidly as the fire this morning. It seemed that the whole interior of the dry goods department of the store was a solid mass of flames within a few minutes after the fire started.

Four hours after the fire was under control the firemen were busy pulling materials out of the shelves and extinguishing the smoldering fire in the goods. The stock of the dry goods is a complete loss, there not being a piece of merchandise or a fixture which is not entirely ruined. In the other departments the loss was confined mostly to smoke and water damage.

O'Hair is Anxious.

Fred L. O'Hair, secretary of the newly organized Greencastle Automobile club, is anxious that something definite be done toward securing the route of the proposed ocean-to-ocean highway for the central portion of Indiana. He is at present in this city attending the Indiana better roads convention, which he hopes will interest itself actively in the matter. He has also conferred with W. S. Gilbreath, secretary of the Hoosier Motor club, upon this subject.—Indianapolis News.

J. M. ALLEN DIES AT KANSAS HOME

FORMER RESIDENT OF GREENCASTLE EXPIRES IN CHANUTE, KAN., HIS DEATH BEING DUE TO INJURIES RECEIVED IN FALL FROM BUGGY.

WAS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

The Chanute, Kan., Tribune of December 2, gives the following in regard to the death of James M. Allen, a former resident of Greencastle and well-known to many of the older inhabitants of Putnam county:

"James M. Allen, for more than forty-seven years a resident of Neosho county, died at his home, 401 South Lincoln avenue, at 11 o'clock last night. His death was the direct result of injuries which he received when he fell from a buggy Thursday of last week—Thanksgiving day.

"He alighted upon his head, the blow producing concussion of the brain and a fracture of the spine. These injuries, in connection with his health, which had not been robust for three or four years, soon terminated fatally.

"At the time of the accident Mr. Allen was returning from an inspection of the rock road being constructed south of the city. The horse behind which he was riding became frightened. It kicked and backed and was starting to run when Mr. Allen jumped from the buggy.

"Mr. Allen was born January 31, 1842, in Putnam county, near Greencastle, Ind. In September, 1860, he entered Asbury University, now DePauw University, which institution he attended until the following April when he, together with a number of other students of the university, enlisted in Company K, Sixteenth Indiana volunteer infantry, for one year. He was mustered out at Washington, D. C., in 1862.

His regiment was reorganized and he re-enlisted and was mustered in as a sergeant August 16, 1862. He was commissioned second lieutenant in July, 1863.

"While taking passage down the Red river on the river boat, 'City Belle' he was taken prisoner. May 1, 1864, by the Confederate forces at Snaggy Point, and was, by them taken to Tyler Tex. October 20 of the same year, under the name of Andrew H. Patrick, a fellow prisoner who had previously escaped, he was exchanged and returned to his regiment, where he was commissioned first lieutenant in May and served until the end of the war, July, 1865. He was discharged with his regiment at Indianapolis.

"September 27, 1865, he moved to Kansas and settled on a claim in what is now Neosho county. August 27, 1867, he married Eva Foster at Baldwin, Kan. Mr. Allen is survived by a widow and four children; also three brothers, A. P. Allen, of Erie, Kan.; H. C. Allen, of Indianapolis, Ind., and R. N. Allen, of Chanute."

Sims Hotel Burns.

BRAZIL, Ind., Dec. 13.—The cold wave which hit here Thursday morning and brought a drop in the mercury to within three degrees of zero, started a string of fires which have kept the fire department on the run, the most serious of which occurred at the Sims hotel on South Depot street, about 11 o'clock last night.

The origin of the Sims hotel fire is a mystery, but from appearance it started in a dresser in a bed room on the second floor of the hotel. This dresser was completely gutted and the firemen are of the opinion that the blaze was started in some manner in one of the drawers. A broken coal oil lamp on the dresser has also led to the theory that the explosion of the lamp might have caused the fire.

The front part of the second floor of the hotel was badly damaged and the flames went on up through the third floor to the roof. The bursting third floor flooded the second and first floors with water and did great damage. The loss to Mrs. Sims is probably $400, with no insurance. The damage to the hotel building is estimated at $800 and is fully covered.

Mrs. Sims, mother of "Casey" Sims, is the owner of the hotel.

Ralston for President.

Such a thing may happen that Governor Ralston, if successful in his administration of the affairs of Indiana during the next three years, may be a very strong and successful man before the next Democratic national convention for the presidency. And why not?

He comes from a good location and we predict that the nominee will be selected from this section of the country. Indiana will be a battle ground in 1916 and the fact that Ralston is a big man, thoroughly able to fill the presidency, will have been established during his administration of state affairs. We do not believe Mr. Bryan has any real idea of seeing the presidency again. He cannot afford to become, in any sense, the Roosevelt of the Democratic party, however much The Herald believes in him along with thousands of other members of the party. The people want Bryan's medicine, but they prefer it given them by another doctor. So it is that we believe Gov. Ralston has a bright chance of being the next Democratic nominee for the presidency. Much, of course, depends upon his administration, and his success in preventing foolish and troublesome legislation which may be proposed in the next legislature and the one to follow. If the governor permits our statutes to be loaded down with radical and Bull Moose theories his chances as a national character will be injured. A man, to become available as a national issue, must be free from local issues which may become national in a short time, but may be unpopular also.—Indianapolis Herald.

SENIOR TANSEL IS ACQUITTED

RUSKIN TANSEL, BOY WHO STABBED AND FATALLY WOUNDED ROBERT N. DROFFT, IS GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE WHILE HIS FATHER GOES FREE.

JURY LONG IN DELIBERATION

(Special to The Herald.) WINCHESTER, Ind., Dec. 14.—The jury in the case of the state against Charles Tansel and his son Ruskin, for the murder of Robert N. Krofft, late this afternoon returned a verdict finding the senior Tansel not guilty but sentencing his son to jail for one year on the charge of second degree murder. The case went to the jury late yesterday evening. The jury returned the verdict at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The following special from Winchester tells of yesterday's progress in the trial.

WINCHESTER, Ind., Dec. 13.—A grim relic of the Tansel-Krofft tragedy in the shape of the torn and blood-stained coat of Robert N. Krofft, the victim, was displayed to the jury in the murder case against the Tansels, this morning, when Prosecuting Attorney Ernest E. Chenoweth began his argument for the state.

At the sight of the familiar garment Mrs. Krofft, the widow, and her two daughters and two sons broke into sobs and every person in the court room was moved with sympathy.

The second tragic moment came when Attorney Fred S. Caldwell, for the defense, told in his argument of the death of Charles Tansel's first wife, the mother of Ruskin Tansel, defendant in this murder case. Ruskin Tansel was but 3 years old when his mother died and the elder Tansel had carefully nursed his son, acting both as father and mother until he married again.

Elder Defendant Cries.

During the time the attorney brought this in his argument Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan, grandparents of Ruskin Tansel, broke into tears. Tears came to the eyes of Charles Tansel himself and there were many people in the court room sobbing.

Attorney Caldwell was followed by S. A. Canada, deputy prosecutor; Attorney Henry U. Johnson for the defense and Henry Spann of Indianapolis, who closed for the prosecution.

Mr. Spann finished his argument shortly after 8 o'clock and Judge James S. Engle charged the jury. A verdict is expected late Saturday afternoon.

Thomas Williams of Anderson, the witness who failed to answer when his name was called, was charged with contempt when he appeared this morning. He produced a physician's certificate.

FACULTY CONCERT TO BE GIVEN MONDAY EVENING

The DePauw Music School faculty recital to be given Monday evening in Meharry Hall, by Miss Adah Victoria McCoy, pianist and Mr. Howard J. Barnum, violinist, assisted by Dean McCutchan, tenor, promises to be a most popular event. It will be the first public appearance in Greencastle of Miss McCoy since her return from abroad, and her many friends will be there to welcome her appearance.

The talent of Mr. Barnum is well-known to the Greencastle public and many will be glad of an opportunity to hear the renditions of his numbers. One number to be played by Mr. Barnum, which will be of more than usual interest is the Fantasy Moise by Paganini, which is performed on a "G" string alone, all other strings being taken off the violin.

Danville Courthouse Work.

The excavation for the basement of the new courthouse will probably be completed this week, unless weather conditions interfere. It is the hope of the contractors that they may be able to complete the concrete work and lay a portion of the basement stone before knocking off work for the winter. To that end a considerable portion of the stone is being shipped in. As early in the spring as possible, work will be resumed with a large force of workmen, so as to get everything in readiness for the laying of the corner stone during the fine weather of the summer. The corner stone will be laid with Masonic ceremonies, and Governor Ralston will probably preside and delivered the address.—Danville Gazette.

ELDER GOODBAR FORCED TO MAKE ASSIGNMENT.

John H. Goodbar has deeded all his real estate and turned over all his personal property except his household goods to Henry Allen Foster and Eugene C. Ashby, trustees, who will sell the property, pay the indebtedness and turn over the balance, if any to Mr. Goodbar.

The real estate consists of a fine farm in Scott township, the home property in Ladoga, and a half interest in the Grimes and Goodbar business building in Ladoga.

Fair, square and honest in every transaction, Mr. Goodbar has taken what is believed to be the best method for protecting his creditors. Driven to the wall financially by a misplaced confidence in a wayward son, Robert Goodbar, sent to the Jeffersonville reformatory this week, Mr. Goodbar's desire to pay what he owes if he has means enough to do it and it is believed that a possible $2,000 may be saved from the wreck after debts are paid.

Mr. Goodbar, worth not long ago $15,000 to $18,000, is brought to this extremity in his later years by a trusted son who has shown no appreciation of what has been done for him, but John H. Goodbar has shown his honesty and integrity by sacrificing all he has left to an honest settlement may be made with his creditors.—Ladoga Leader.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS RECITAL

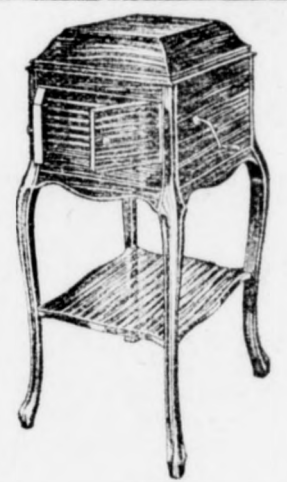

MISS MARGARET KREIGH TAKES PROMINENT PART IN DELIGHTFUL MUSICAL EVENT GIVEN AT THE LOCUST STREET CHURCH FRIDAY EVENING.

ILLNESS HINDERS PROGRAM

The recital of the Asbury Conservatory of Music at Locust Street Methodist church was enthusiastically received by one of the largest audiences that has greeted a similar event this season. In spite of the fact that the heating plant was broken, leaving the church cold, the auditorium and galleries were crowded and many stood in the rear aisle.

The opening number was a group of organ selections by Prof. I. E. Norris, director of the conservatory. Mr. Morris chose two pieces from two of the best known writers of the modern school "Toccata" in G minor, by James H. Rogers and "Theme with Variations" in A minor by William Faulkes. The latter was distinguished by a powerful theme, strongly developed by the organist, and the former entailed skillful pedal work to bear out the subject, accompanied by sparkling, running work on the manuals. Miss Margaret Kreigh, heard in "Die Lorelei" by Liszt and "As the Dawn" by Otto Cantor surprised even those familiar with her singing by her wonderful exhibition of range. Miss Kreigh has a clear, powerful soprano that is always a delight to those who hear it. Herr Ferdinand Schaefer showed the artist's mastery of his instrument and in three violin selections by Godard, Massenet and Wieniawski thrilled his auditors by his graceful and versatile display of technique. One of the most delightful pieces on

Petition to Improve Highway

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned Auditor of Putnam County Indiana, that there has been filed in his office a petition by J. G. Goslin, et al., for the improvement of a certain public highway in Franklin Township, Putnam County, Indiana, and that said petition is set for hearing before the Board of County Commissioners of said county, on Monday, the 6th day of January, 1913, the same being the first day of the January Term 1913, of said board.

Which said petition is in the following words and figures, to-wit:

State of Indiana, Putnam County, SS:

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners of Putnam County, Indiana:

We, the undersigned freeholders and voters of Franklin Township, Putnam County, Indiana, respectfully petition your honorable board and ask that the highway hereinafter described, in said Township, be improved as hereinafter recommended. Said highway, or more particularly the center line of said highway, is described, as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the point of intersection of the center line of Forrest Home street in the Town of Roachdale, Putnam County, Indiana, with the center line of the Roachdale and New Maysville Free Gravel Road, which point of intersection is the East boundary line of the corporate limits of the said town of Roachdale, Putnam County, Indiana thence West with the center line of said Forrest Home street in said town to center line of said Pine street in said town, thence North with the center line of said Pine street in said town to the center line of Columbia st., in said town thence West with the center line of said Columbia street in said town to the center line of Indiana street in said town, thence North with the center line of said Indiana street in said town, to the North corporate line of said Town of Roachdale, Indiana, where the said Indiana street intersects what is known as the Bainbridge and Ladoga Free Gravel Road.

Said highway herein asked to be improved is less than three miles in length and connects at the East end with an improved free gravel road and at the North end with an improved free gravel road.

Petitioners recommend that said highway herein asked to be improved be sufficiently graded and drained, and that the paving material used be crushed stone, utilizing as far as possible the stone already on said highway, and that the surface of said highway be finished with crushed stone bound together with tarvia or asphalt binder, so that said roadway will be of a hard, smooth and durable character.

Petitioners further recommend that the entire length of said proposed improvement be from curb to curb, in said highway.

Peanuts and Public Speaking.

As a spur to a member of his class in Public Speaking who had not displayed the necessary "pep," Professor Gough offered a large bag of Virginia jumbo double jointed peanuts for a satisfactory rendering of "Boadicea."

Yesterday afternoon Professor Gough placed the yellow bag of "goubers" on the piano in Plato Hall in plain sight and then called upon the backward student.

The result was astounding. The student waded into the selection like a short horn calf into a bran mash. His execution was accurate and deadly.

As he took his seat in the classroom Professor Gough delivered unto him that sack of double-jointed Virginia jumbos without a murmur.

It is rumored that plans are now on foot to secure a permanent peanut endowment for the public speaking department.

MISS MILLER LEADS REGULAR Y. W. C. A. MEETING YESTERDAY

"Givers and Giving" was the subject of the talk and discussion of the Young Women's Christian Association yesterday afternoon. Miss Susie Miller was the leader.

Basing her talk upon the quotation "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver," she emphasized the spirit of helpfulness. "Giving," she said, "is measured by the heart of the giver." She then spoke of the requirements made of college students, especially for service.

The main talk was followed by a general discussion. Miss Bernice Church gave a vocal solo as special music.

DR. REED ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A.

Shows Advantage of Being Prepared for "Wayside Opportunities."

"We are living in an age of golden opportunities," stated Dr. Horace Reed of Danville, Ill., in beginning an address to the Young Men's Christian Association last night on the subject of "Wayside Opportunities."

In the application of his subject to practical life he said "Every opportunity furnishes many wayside opportunities to brighten the lives of others." He gave a number of illustrations from history and modern life.

"Never were greater opportunities offered to the young men of this country than today," he said in making his conclusion.

Dr. Reed delivered an address to women and girls at Locust St. church this afternoon and speaks at a mass meeting at the Christian church tonight.

DAILY SUED FOR LIBEL

ATTORNEY FOR RAYMOND JACKSON TAKES OFFENSE AT NEWSPAPER ARTICLE.

NEW CASE FOR MOOT COURT

As a result of an article which dealt with the Jackson-Barnes shooting fray in Chas. Bell's Drug shop recently, Ivo Hale, counsel for the defense announced today that suit for libel would immediately be brought against the DePauw Daily.

The article which the counsel has taken exception to appeared in yesterday's issue. It reads: "Later he remarked that in a way he was glad that Jackson shot him, because he considered Jackson a dangerous character, and that if the shooting resulted in Jackson's leaving DePauw some good had been accomplished." Counsel for the defense was very indignant over this article.

The libel suit will be tried in the class in argumentation and debate immediately following the Jackson-Barnes trial which is up for the first week in January.

The counsel for the prosecution are: Foss Smith, Wilbur Stoner, Theron Atwood and Cecil Appleman. The attorneys for the defense are: Ivo Hale, Olin Mintzer and Wilbur Showalter. Attorney Hale stated today that the plea for the defense would be self-defense.

The part of judge for the trial will be taken by one of the Greencastle lawyers. Who this will be is not known yet. The jury will be composed of all members of the debate class not otherwise actively concerned in the trial.

Indiana University is to become the mother chapter of a new honorary athletic fraternity, known as Sigma Delta Psi, which it is thought will be instituted in a great many universities and colleges throughout the U. S. within the next few months. George Fitch, the noted humorist, Dr. Bryan president of the university, and Dr. C. P. Hutchins, director of physical training, are responsible for the origin of the new fraternity. Its purpose is to bring recognition to the all-round athlete and it may be commonly called the Phi Beta Kappa of Athletics. The members of the faculty of the university have unanimously agreed to found a chapter there at once and it will be known as the Indiana University Chapter.

LAIDLER TALKS ON SOCIALISM

Explains Movement and Points Out Its Advantages.

Harry W. Laidler, organizer of the National Inter-collegiate Socialist societies, spoke before a small audience in Philo Hall last evening, taking as his subject, "The Aims and Achievements of Socialism."

He declared his purpose was not so much to convert people to Socialism as to induce them to give the subject a thorough and exhaustive investigation that they might more fairly judge of its merits.

He pointed out the evils existing in the present state of society and gave the reforms which the Socialists believe will do away with the evils. "One group of our population," he declared, "should not own all the instruments of distribution and production while the other group doing the work owns nothing." Among other things he advocated collective ownership of the necessities of life, and compensation to be determined by productive capacity of workmen.

MANY DEBATERS AT WORK

Preparations for Indiana Contest Well Under Way.

Preparations for the varsity debate with Indiana University are far under way. Although the names of all the contestants in the local primary will not be known until the Monday after the Christmas vacation, it is already evident that the number will reach far above that of last year. Every man in school that was on last year's squad will enter the local contest.

"Everybody is working," said President Hale of the debate council, this afternoon, "and that is about all I am able to tell."

Short Sermons FOR A Sunday Half-Hour

THE GREATNESS OF GENTLENESS

BY THE REV. EDWIN WHITTIER CASWELL.

The gentleness hath made me great.—Psalm xviii., 35.

God's gentleness is "like as a father pitieth his children," or "as one whom his mother comforteth," a bruised reed. He will not break nor quench the smoking flax; "He sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust." His gentle rays of love fall on the evil and on the good, on the palace and on the cottage.

He who from Bethlehem came wore a smile of gentleness that won the hearts of all the children and attracted to His side the poor, the sinful, the outcast and the homeless. Jesus was the gentle heart and mind of God manifested to humanity.

David in his sin and sorrow had drawn from God's merciful gentleness the power which gave him the greatness of goodness, as well as the ability in his wonderful Psalms to touch all the chords of joy and sorrow in the human heart.

The gentleness that makes the true gentleman was the crowning glory of the character of Abraham Lincoln. He bore the burdens of a nation with the patience and hope of a sublime gentleness. With Godlike sympathy he listened to the cry of anguish and bereavement from every troubled heart when the destiny of the Republic was in the balance. He pardoned the unfortunate soldier with the gentleness of heavenly forgiveness; he bore with his enemies in his own secret Cabinet, like Jesus with Judas. After patient waiting he struck off every shackle from the slave and with his benignant countenance reflected divine gentleness upon the world.

Gentleness that rules the spirit is greater than taking a city or conquering a rebellion; it overcomes bitterness, displaces selfishness, throttles evil tempers, quiets irritation, plucks a thistle and plants a flower in its place, spreading over the world the kindly mantle of "malice toward none and charity for all."

Such is the touch of the "vanished hand" that rests to-day like a benediction upon the head of the nation. Such is the voice, whose soft answer always turned away wrath, that fills the earth with the resounding echoes of peace and good will.

We called him "gentle, honest Abe" when he was with us, for he was the purest hearted, whitest minded, gentlest spirit, dearest martyr and grandest liberator and ruler among the sons of men.

Our martyred President, who was such a giant of goodness, greatness and gentleness, had to fall before we could measure him and must rise again before we will fully see and know him as he is.

Today Lincoln, with Washington, is embalmed in the hearts of his countrymen. The father and the savior of their country are two of God's masterpieces of gentleness, drawn by the Divine Artist, exhibited before all people, inspiring mankind by their memory, example and noble deeds to attain in their moral manhood to the loftiest ideals of truth, righteousness and holiness.

"I Should Think You Would."

A beautiful Gypsy girl was employed by a German artist to sit for one of his studies. She noticed in his studio an unfinished picture of the crucifixion, and asked who "that wicked man" was, and what his crime was to be punished so. The artist explained picture, and, in answer to her many questions, gave her a rather grudging account of the Gospel story. He had no sympathy with Christian themes, and his cold man never roused her wonder. "Why," she said, "I should think you would love Him if He died for you!"

Don't run to ears. Be a man, not a rabbit.

Parasite yeast, for bubbles—or do you want bread.

Christ does not save men from anything. He is a way, not an asylum.

If you cannot abolish a wrong you can brand it as it passes, and bide your time.

He who preaches to God in his prayers is quite likely to pray to men in his preaching.

Men seek their own spiritual party level as certainly as rivulets seek their rivers, and rivers seek the sea.

Reforms have their seasons of spring and fall, like the tree, but the tough wood grows by storms.

God's Peace.

The deepest want of man is not a desire for happiness, but a craving for peace; not a wish for the gratification of every desire, but a craving for the repose of acquiescence in the will of God, and it is this which Christianity promises. Christianity does not promise happiness, but it does promise peace.—F. W. Robertson.

People are always talking of perseverance, courage and fortitude; but patience is the finest and noblest part of fortitude, and the rarest, too.

After reading the public statement of this fellow-sufferer given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which proved so beneficial years ago, with the kidneys can naturally be expected to perform the same work in similar cases. Read this:

George W. Wood, farmer, one mile east of Greencastle, Ind., says: "For the past ten or twelve years I have had disordered kidneys. I suffered from severe pains in my back, and about four years ago I was in bad shape. I was hardly able to bear the pain in my back and a too frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions caused me annoyance. I finally sent to Jones Stevens Co.'s Drug Store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had taken less than the contents of one box and I was relieved. I am now well and therefore recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly."

The above statement was given January 8, 1909, and when Mr. Wood was interviewed on June 5, 1912, he said: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine remedy and I willingly confirm all I said in my former public statement recommending them."

HOLE PROOF HOSE IN XMAS BOXES, $1.50, AT THE MODEL.

Fire badly damaged the large brick two-apartment-dwelling at 1125 South street this morning shortly after 8 o'clock and imperiled two families, who did not know the building was afire until the roof was almost ready to cave in. William W. Steele and family occupied the upper flat and William M. Mahoney and family the lower one. The fire started either in the roof or on the roof or in the attic, supposedly from the chimney. A colored man named Willis had been taking care of the furnace and early Friday morning when he found that the heating system was not working properly he proceeded to clean out the flue by the use of kerosene. He was up in the attic and at 8 o'clock knocked at the rear door of the upper flat and told Mrs. Steel to send for a plumber. He said nothing about a fire, but soon after Mrs. Steel heard a crackling sound and was not long in discovering that the roof was ablaze. The flames spread rapidly and the roof gave way soon after the firemen arrived. An attempt was made to save the furniture but only a portion of that on the lower floor could be carried out. The Steele family lost practically all their belongings and carried no insurance on their household goods. The Mahoney family lost a portion of their furniture but their loss is partially covered by insurance. Mr. Steele was at work at the Barbee works when notified his house was on fire. He hurried home and reached there in time to carry out his little daughter, Dorothy Louise, who has been ill. The Steele family was cared for at the home of Mrs. John T. Gagen and the Mahoney family, consisting of husband, wife and three children, went to the McGrath home. The weather was intensely cold and the firemen were soon enveloped in coats of ice. The entire roof and upper floor were burned away and the interior of the house gutted.—Lafayette Morning Journal.—Mr. Mahoney and family formerly resided in this city.

Wright, a son, is to receive certain mining stock formerly owned by his father. The will was made in July, 1907. Gilbert Sinclair is named executor.

TOWNSHIP LOSES IN FIGHT FOR CROW SCHOOL HOUSE.

Judge Hughes this afternoon found in favor of Robert Crow in the quiet title suit of the Greencastle School Township against Mr. Crow, which was for possession of the old Crow school house and yard, which are located just northeast of town. It was shown in the evidence that the late Ed Crow gave the land to the township for school purposes; but that should the school be abandoned the land was to revert to Mr. Crow or his heirs. The township officials contended that this was not the case. A contract made by Mr. Crow, but which has since been lost, set out the agreement alleged by the defendants, it was claimed. The school was built in 1871 and was used until about two years ago.

the program was Rubinstein's "Staccato Etude," the extreme difficulties of which were made joys by Miss Alice Trout at the piano. Her touch is dainty but firm and her versatility was shown by her pleasing rendition of the lighter selections—"Two Arabesques" by Debussy and "Valse Chromatique" by Godard.

Many in the audience were disappointed at not being given the treat of hearing Mr. Rudolph Heyne, the head of the conservatory's voice department, and Mr. Walter P. Pfaff, the dramatic art instructor, both having been kept away by illness.
